

Due to many different reasons it can be necessary or reasonable for your company to replace or reduce the current IT equipment. With respect to both, ecology and efficiency, we take care of your old appliances. For age is a matter of mind.

i4next specializes in remarketing of used IT and in this regard offers a comprehensive package of services. We buy your equipment according to current market value – regardless of age, manufacturer or product group. You name quantity, configuration and availability, we name you a price. Devices which are not fit for the market are prepared for recycling in conformity to the regulations in force of the Waste Management Act.

Please find below an overview of our services, which can be individually combined and perfectly customized to your needs. We gladly look forward to providing you with a non-binding quote!

Remarketing of Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment

Purchase

i4next buys your IT equipment according to current market value. Quotation, payment and accomplishment are carried out within a few days.

Logistics

i4next manages the entire transportation process, including pick-up, delivery and storage (e.g. if sale on commission).

Audit

In the course of the auditing process your old appliances are inventoried (recording of serial and inventory numbers, configuration, condition). You receive a test report including all certificates of erasure, to provide you a perfect support in case of internal and external audits or revisions.

Data erasure

In-house data and software are erased – if requested on-the-spot – by means of Blancco®. The serial number of the data medium is recorded on the certificate of erasure. Damaged media are physically destroyed by a shredder.

Refurbishing

Prior to resale all equipment is cleaned, checked and refurbished and – if required – provided with software (e.g. in case of employee sale). Any signs and indications related to the previous owner are removed.

Spare parts procurement

We try to save every computer at all costs. Therefore, especially concerning server upgrades and networks, we dispose of a large stock of tested high-quality spare parts.

Sale on commission

Concerning equipment which is difficult to sale such as mainframes or large printing lines, i4next offers to process the sale within a determined time and financial limit. You get the proceeds, i4next a provision.

Employee sale

If requested, i4next buys your equipment and sells it to your employees on favourite terms. The risk of warranty claims, additional tax burden and extra work is thus for you eliminated.

Waste disposal

Devices which cannot be resold are deconstructed thoroughly. Intact components are removed, all other parts are prepared for recycling in conformity with the regulations in force of the Waste Management Act.
